

Solar system

The solar system is like a big cosmic family with the sun as its shining star. Imagine the sun at the center, and around it, there are eight planets that travel in their own paths called orbits.